FREEDOM OF INFORMATION PODCASTS

A useful Freedom of Information resource for public sector information professionals wanting to keep up to date with the latest caselaw under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOI).

Every month there are around twenty FOI decisions of the Information Commissioner and ten appeals heard by the Information Tribunal. It is often difficult for busy FOI practitioners to read every decision to keep up to date with this fast moving area of law.

Ibrahim Hasan, one of the Directors of Act Now Training, has for some time been producing podcasts commenting on the decisions of the Information Commissioner and Tribunal and interviewing key people in this field. This is the only FOI podcast in the UK and has been mentioned in The Times and other legal journals. You can listen to the latest podcast on our website (www.actnow.org.uk).

Since September 2006, Ibrahim has produced twenty-one episodes of his podcast giving his insight into over one thousand key FOI decisions. Many of these decisions have changed the way FOI is interpreted and its key exemptions applied. It is essential for FOI practitioners to know about these when making decisions under the Act.

The FOI Podcasts are now available to purchase (£149+vat) as a single package on CD containing:

- Audio files of every podcast episode up to January 2011
- Electronic copies of every script

This is an excellent opportunity to build up your own library of key FOI decisions together with analysis and comment from one of the UK's leading information law experts.
