

GDPR Update

The first two years of GDPR implementation have been eventful. A number of fines have been issued against Data Controllers across Europe. The UK Information Commissioner has issued two Notices of Intent and one fine. No doubt more will follow. What can we learn from these and what can we expect in the future?

In this workshop, Ibrahim Hasan, shares his reflections and learnings from the past twenty-four months. He will analyse all the latest cases and enforcement action from across Europe and help you form an action plan for avoiding the attention of the ICO. Ibrahim will also discuss how GDPR and the DPA 2018 will change as a result of Brexit.

“ As always, the course was great and full of useful content. I have attended a lot of training sessions with yourselves and they never disappoint. Ibrahim’s knowledge is outstanding and certainly instills confidence in me that we’re doing everything right. I am really looking forward to my next session. Thank you!
